

NAZI CHIEFS INDICTED FOR WAR CRIMES

This Is My Story Wainwright Seeks Food Sources for His Starving Men

This is the twelfth of a series by General Jonathan M. Wainwright, telling for the first time the official story of the Philippines, early defeat suffered by U. S. forces in the Philippines. Today General Wainwright outlines his struggle to feed his starving men, and tells of MacArthur's suggested plan to use Jap stores, and hears the depressing word from Maj. Gen. P. King that he might have to surrender Bataan.)

NE of my first acts after assuming command of all U. S. forces in the Philippines—on March 21, 1942—was to take personal charge of my supplies. Aside from the pressing problem of food for my actually starving men on Bataan, I had to have ammunition of many kinds. I especially needed the type of anti-aircraft ammunition capable of keeping Jap bombers, fighters and their undying observation planes high enough to cut into their effectiveness.

There were two types of anti-aircraft ammunition use then. We had what was called the powder-train type, in which the fuse exploded the shell or burning a coil of powder, but the maximum altitude you could get out of that type was about 20,000 feet.

The other type was mechanically fused ammunition which had, in effect, a set of watchworks in the fuse. You could set those works to explode the shell as high as 28,000 feet. We had but little of this, so immediately after my arrival on The Rock I commenced working on the arrival of MacArthur and the war department to get me out of this type.

Food from Corregidor
I was able to send some of Corregidor's food stocks to Bataan. About the middle of February, MacArthur, looking to the inevitable future, had stocked up fair stores of provisions on The Rock. He had even sent a last-ditch stand on Corregidor by 20,000 men, the 11,000 or so I had, and cached enough food to last them on half rations until July, 1942.

Beginning with my arrival on The Rock I began paring out some of that food to Bataan. But it was little more than a crumb for the 70,000 starving men over there. Yet the shipments cut into Corregidor's stock to point where I figured—at the start of the battle for the Rock—that our 11,000 defenders would consume all by June 20, 1942, on less than half rations.

I learned shortly after getting to Corregidor that there were two supply ships in Philippine waters loaded with food, gas and oil. The food ship was at Cebu City and the fuel ship at Iloilo, on Panay. I contacted my officers at those islands and asked them to find inter-ship skippers willing to run the gauntlet up to Corregidor. They replied that there was no way of persuading a skipper to do this without assurance that his ship would be protected all the way up and back. So I asked MacArthur by radio to send up a squadron of bombers to Mindanao. I planned to use the remaining motor torpedo boats to assist, and with them and the bombers, tempt to get our supplies up to The Rock. With that mind I sent an air staff officer down to Mindanao to ordinate the plan.

An Unexplained Delay
I still do not know the cause, but there was a nerve-racking delay of days and days. In final desperation I turned to Capt. Kenneth Hoeffel, U. S. N., who told me the Navy had two submarines in Philippine waters. With MacArthur's help I had those submarines intercept in at Cebu, unload their torpedoes, and fill up with S. Army rations. Between the two of them they could hold 35 tons of food. It was less than half a day's rations for Bataan, but even that would be a Godsend.

Even here there was delay; delay which saw Bataan me closer and closer to its fall.
Bataan worried me greatly. I had placed Maj. Gen. Edward P. King, Jr., in charge of the Luzon forces. He was the senior American officer on Bataan after I made my move. I gave him my old headquarters just north of Anives, and presented him with my trailer. It was a much of a gift, nor was his new role an enviable one. A sword hung over his head and over the heads of his starved men... a Jap sword.

Not So Restful, After All
Compared to Bataan, it was peaceful on Corregidor day I reported. For a change, there was not a shot fired. I had not been able to rest much for three

500,000 STRIKE IN ARGENTINA TO AID PERON

Country Nearly Paralyzed by Work Stoppage and Political Upheavals.

By The Associated Press
BUENOS AIRES, Oct. 18—Nationwide strike by 500,000 members of the General Confederation of Workers who supported Col. Juan Peron, former vice president, in a new surge to power, today brought nearly to a stop Argentina's industrial and commercial activity.

A high source said the Argentine high seas fleet had moved out of its base at Puerto Belgrano, 500 miles south of Buenos Aires. Destination of the fleet was unknown, but Adm. Hector Verengo Lima, a leader of the movement which ousted Peron on Oct. 9, was in turn thrown out of office yesterday in the political upheaval which saw Peron returned to a position of dominance.

Strike
The strong man of the military government forced the formation of a cabinet of his supporters and friends, and halted a general strike called in his behalf as celebrating "a day of glory for the workers."

President Edelmiro Farrell tossed aside a "cabinet of notables" submitted by Juan Alvarez as attorney general, threw out Alvarez himself, reinstated several members of his deposed cabinet, ousted Adm. Hector Verengo Lima, a leader of the Oct. 9 movement against Peron, as Navy minister, and before a vast crowd hailed Peron as "a man who knows how to win your heart."

The newspaper La Prensa said that shortly before midnight the gunboats Independencia and Rosario and the minesweeper Drummond of the Argentine Navy left the capital's port. It pointed out that the Oct. 9 movement against Peron, as Navy minister, and before a vast crowd hailed Peron as "a man who knows how to win your heart."

In response to the general strike call issued by Peron's friends in the General Confederation of Labor, all trains out of Buenos Aires stopped running.

Not All in Support
But not all unions supported the strike. The Buenos Aires labor council, which includes representatives of all unions in the capital, said the strike was "imposed by Nazi elements in the

STRIKE THREATENS POWER FOR MICHIGAN

By The Associated Press
A strike threatening to cut off electrical power for more than 2,000,000 residents of industrial lower Michigan began at 8 a. m. today in plants of the Consumers Power Co.

Operators of boilers and turbines of the big Zilwaukee plant near Saginaw, which feeds power into the rich Saginaw valley, failed to report at their stations at the regular hour.

The power plant, however, was reported still operating, and C. M. Watson, superintendent, said he expected to continue operations "as best we can" with men still on duty.

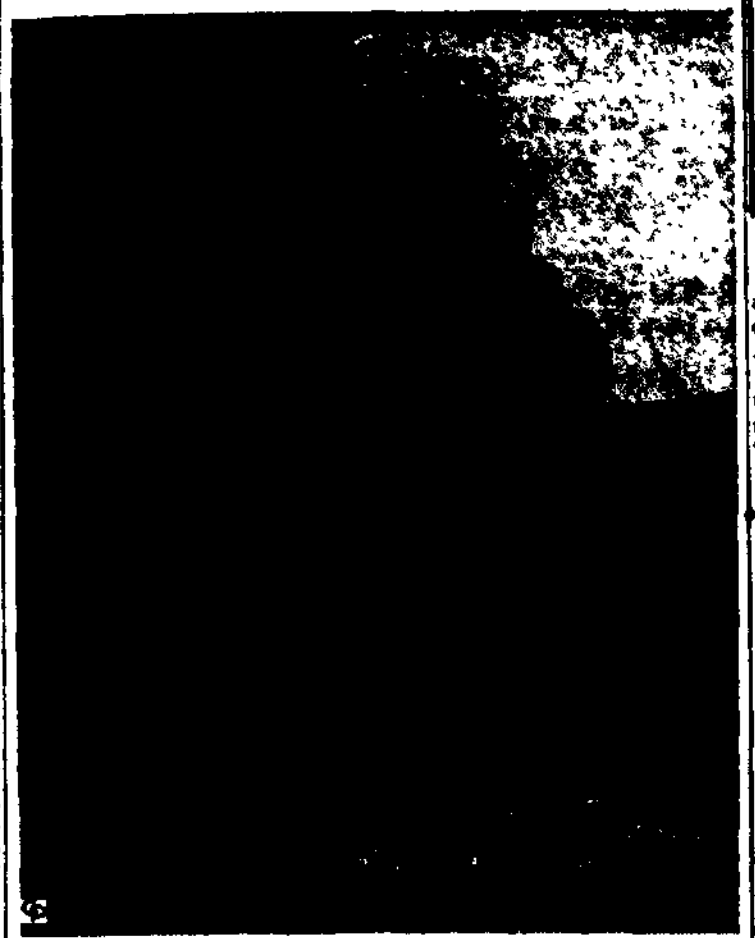

Don McGown, public relations representative of the company, said at Jackson at 8:20 a. m. that company power lines were showing "normal loads."

At Muskegon, Harold Wilson, president of the union local, announced electrical power to private homes and industries was cut off at 8 a. m. that day.

Service to hospitals, police and fire departments and other essential users would be continued.

Seek Wage Boost
The utility workers involved in the dispute over a 30 cent an hour wage rate increase demand supply power for nearly all of Michigan's major cities outside Detroit, serving communities in 87 of Michigan's 83 counties. Hundreds of factories have indicated continuation of a strike would force them to halt operations.

ATOM BOMB EXPERTS APPEAR IN CONGRESS

Scientists Finally Get Chance
To Air Testimony.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Oct. 18—Men who caused the two greatest explosions in history got their chance to create a stir in congress today. Hundreds of scientists who worked on the atomic bomb had joined in demands that their spokesmen be heard on President Truman's atomic energy bill.

The result: Five scientists—Dr. Arthur H. Compton, Dr. J. R. Oppenheimer, Dr. Harold C. Urey, Dr. Leo Szilard, and Dr. H. L. Anderson—were scheduled to speak before the house military committee today.

May Set Up New Group
The senate is expected to set up a new committee of scientists this afternoon to consider all atomic matters. Brian McMahon (D-Conn.) heads the list of prospects for chairman.

The immediate work of the new senate group will be to consider the history-making atomic energy bill—the same one being studied by the house military committee. This bill, sponsored by the Army and White House, would create a powerful atom-men commission of citizens to hear atomic development.

ALLIES ACCUSE 24 TOP MEN OF REICH, SIX GROUPS NAMED

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Oct. 18—The Allied powers indicted 24 German leaders and six Nazi organizations today on charges of starting the world's greatest war and committing history's most horrible mass crimes of murder, torture, devastation and hate.

The leaders named are former key men in Adolf Hitler's government and top generals and admirals of the German high command.

Basically they are accused of a gigantic "plan or conspiracy," dating from 1921, to rule Germany and conquer other lands they wanted. Their strategy: treachery and terror first, finally a deliberate aggressive war.

Total of 98,000 Words
The 35,000 word accusation was drawn for presentation to the four-power war crimes court at Berlin. It sums up in cold legal form Allied fury over Nazi outrages, and it forces the men accused of responsibility to answer for their acts.

The bulk of the indictment is a recital of horrors. The Nazis and their high command associates are blamed officially for the brutal slaughter of about 10,000,000 helpless persons, civilians and prisoners of war.

About 4,000,000 were slain at Auschwitz concentration camp alone, the indictment says, and 1,500,000 in notorious Maidanek.

Of 9,800,000 Jews who came under Nazi domination in and out of Germany, the document asserts, 5,700,000 disappeared, "most of them deliberately put to death by Nazi conspirators."

List of Charges

The Nazis and their associates are accused also:
Of torturing civilians to obtain information,
Of putting civilians under "protective arrest" in the "most unhealthy and inhumane conditions,"

Of mass murders of defenseless people by gassing and shooting, of incredibly cruel "scientific" experiments on women,
Of drawing the blood of children,
Of shooting hostages, ill-treating and murdering war prisoners and
Of plundering or wiping out by wholesale destruction the cities and towns of lands they occupied.

Soldiers Murdered
"American prisoners, officers and men, were murdered in Normandy during the summer of 1944 and in the Ardennes in December, 1944," the official document declares. "American prisoners were starved, beaten and otherwise mistreated in numerous stages (prison camps), in Germany and in the occupied countries, particularly in 1943, 1944 and 1945."

The indictment furnished the basis for projected trial of German Nazi and military leaders by the Anglo-American-French-Soviet military tribunal at Nuremberg, Germany. It was drawn up by prosecutors of the four allied nations, including Justice Robert H. Jackson for the United States. It was released simultaneously in the Allied capitals and in Germany.

The 24 men named as defendants were the highest in Adolf Hitler's Nazi government to be alive. Among them are Hermann Goering, Rudolf Hess, Joachim von Ribbentrop, Robert Ley, all key Hitler officials, General Wilhelm Keitel and Alfred Jodl; Admirals Karl Doenitz and Erich Raeder; industrialist Gustav Krupp Von Bohlen and Halbach; financier Hjalmar Schacht.

Organizations indicted are Hitler's old Reich cabinet, the German general staff and high command.

(Turn to ALLIES, Page 16)

Against most of them the indictment makes four sweeping, general accusations: (1) crimes against peace in starting the war, (2) war crimes in violation of the accepted laws of war, (3) crimes against humanity which include Jewish persecutions, and (4) conspiring together to commit these crimes.

After these four general counts are laid down with details of supporting evidence, the names of the individuals are listed together with the specific counts on which each is to be tried.

Organizations indicted are Hitler's old Reich cabinet, the German general staff and high command.

Allied Judges Open Historic Session with Brief Ceremony

By The Associated Press
BERLIN, Oct. 18—A massive indictment charging German war criminals collectively and individually with crimes against humanity was filed today at the first public session of the international war crimes tribunal.

The historic court session at which the 36,000-word document was formally handed up was held in the severe room of the Allied control authority building—the same building where some of the participants in the July, 1944, plot against Adolf Hitler were tried.

Under an agreement by the four Allied powers, the text of the indictment was embargoed for publication until 3 p. m. Eastern Standard Time.

History's first international military tribunal set to work after a brief opening ceremony. Maj. Gen. I. T. Nikitchenko, chief judge for the Soviet Union, presided. After swearing in members of the tribunal, he announced the court was in session. The prosecutors presented the indictment.

Accepts Indictment
Nikitchenko acknowledged acceptance of the indictment, and made a statement for the court which declared that in addition to the 24 major individual defendants, the prosecution would seek to convict six Nazi party and military groups as criminal organizations.

NAVY IS QUIZZED ON RATE OF DISCHARGES

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—The senate military committee called on the chief of naval personnel today to answer complaints about the tempo of the Navy's demobilization program.

Committee members said they had many questions to ask Admiral Louis Denfeld, based mainly on contentions the Navy discharge system is slower and less liberal than the War department's.

The Navy made public an assurance from Secretary Forrestal that withdrawal of warships from the Pacific to celebrate Navy day in this country Oct. 27 would not slacken the homeward flow of troops.

Acting Chairman Edwin C. Johnson (D-Cole) of the military committee said he hoped Denfeld could supply some "good news to match that we got from the Army yesterday."

Brig. Gen. R. W. Berry, deputy personnel chief, testified: "Voluntary enlistments totaled more than 1,000 a day for the last two weeks, all potential replacements for high point men."

Discharges now at the rate of 40,000 a day should total more than 1,100,000 in October, and are expected to continue at the same speed in November and December.

The Army may have to lower the critical discharge score below 80 points in December.

U. S. SEEKS TO MOVE JEWS TO PALESTINE

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—President Truman said today he had asked Prime Minister Attlee to admit 100,000 Jews to Palestine and that the matter is still under consideration by the British.

The President made this disclosure at a news conference at which he also said no additional "Big Three" meeting is contemplated to settle the Palestine question which developed from the London council of foreign ministers.

The President said he did not want to push the British unduly in their consideration of further Jewish immigration to Palestine. He said Attlee did not want to admit as many as 100,000.

The whole matter, he said, still is being considered.

The President also told reporters European rehabilitation and relief would have to be continued through UNRRA unless the United States wants to assume the whole burden.

He made this comment when asked about criticism of UNRRA by members of congress, recently returned from Europe.

yesterday but police broke up the disturbances. Union leaders and ship owners planned to resume wage contract negotiations today as an estimated 8,400 stevedores returned to work serving some of the hundreds of idle ships.

Plan Gas Stoppage

Stoppage of gas supplies was planned as a secondary measure by the Michigan battery workers' union spokesman said.

Another new labor dispute involved 8,000 CIO United Steel workers in the Crane company plant in Chicago. Five hundred policemen went to the plant yesterday after workers started a sit-down strike, but were sent back to their stations after the workers voluntarily left the building.

End of Coal Strike

Makes Truman Happy

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—President Truman said today he was very happy John L. Lewis had called off the soft coal strike.

Asked his reaction to the President's call for a new conference, the United Mine Workers leader said he had called off the strikes in the public interest.

In any event, Mr. Truman said, it made him very happy.

RELIEF SHIPS ARRIVE

BATAVIA, Java, Oct. 13.—A British convoy arrived tonight off the Java port of Semarang carrying Indian troops who will be sent to rescue Red Cross and relief personnel beleaguered by Japanese nationalists. Lt. Col. J. A. Molloy announced the arrival of Allied headquarters and said more British troops were enroute to Sumatra, another rich Dutch island, where there may be "violent disturbances."

hailed with pleasure the testimony of scientists yesterday that the atomic era won't mean the junking of power dams and railroads, and that it won't mean automobiles will soon be replaced by atom-powered cars.

Congress heard reports that President Truman plans to ask that every able-bodied young man be liable for a year's training under military supervision—but not necessarily a year's service in the Army or Navy.

Law-makers who have talked with the President think that in his speech before congress next Tuesday he will leave the way open for training in scientific, medical and other fields.

Concerning taxes:

The senate finance committee today was working behind closed doors on a bill which it will send to the senate next week.

The committee apparently wants to abolish the excess-profits tax on Jan. 1—an action the house didn't take when it passed its version of the tax-cutting bill last week.

All indications are that the house will vote in favor of returning the U. S. employment service to state control, despite the wish of Mr. Truman that the job agency stay under federal control for a while.

The senate already has voted for returning it to the states.

Declares "Coffee Cup" Spies Not Enough

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—Gen. George C. Marshall told senators today this country no longer can depend on "coffee cup" intelligence work but must have a worldwide espionage system.

"We should know as much as possible about the intent, as well as the military capabilities, of every country in the world," he testified before the senate military affairs committee.

Marshall said that before the war this country depended on information that could be obtained by military attachés "over the coffee cup at some dinner."

At the same time, the five star general said, all the rest of the world was finding out what the United States was doing.

When any plant is cultivated on a large scale various diseases and insect pests appear.

Atom Bomb Great Force As Nations Seek Federation

By J. M. ROBERTS Jr.
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

As it becomes increasingly evident that the "secret" of the atomic bomb lies principally in the ability to construct plants for its production, talk of what to do about it turns more and more to some method to prevent man from poisoning himself with the fruit of his own labors.

The Dublin, N. H., pronouncement by a group interested in world peace, that a federation of the world is the only answer, is a natural reaction. It is as though they said that man, driven by this new fear, must now decide to do at once what he has known for ages that he must do in the end.

Alfred Tenyson, who predicted almost 100 years ago that, after the world's "airy navies" had "rained a ghastly dew," there would be accomplished a federation of the world, was not the first to express this dream. It has been repeated so often as to become almost a truism. But it usually is something more than for the ultimate rather than the present.

Dec Down Early

The Dublin meeting presented an example itself in a way when Justice Owen Roberts and some of its other leaders felt unable to agree with the majority in its willingness to scrap the United Nations organization. The minority preferred to take the thing step by step, with an initial union of the United States with other nations which already have adopted liberty for individuals.

That apparently would mean, so far as major powers are concerned, Britain and the United States, and would be mere formalization of a union which already exists in practice.

The inevitable result of such step now would be a return to the prewar attitudes by Russia, who felt herself forced into a pact with Germany when she decided, rightly or wrongly, that France and England were encouraging Hitler to move east instead of west.

Russia's ideological war with capitalism is still a very real internal issue, regardless of whether she lives under her own system and capitalism have become. She has long felt herself surrounded, and her almost certain reaction to any greater formalization of the present Anglo-American alignment would be to back up, drop co-operation, perhaps hoping for the best but preparing herself for any possible unfriendly manifestation.

Not Through Fear

If the nations could not agree at San Francisco to give nations an equal position before an international control body, there is no indication that anything can be done along that line immediately under the fear of atomic energy. The Dublin proposal for a world government ruled by the general assembly of nations, instead of by a few great powers, is an equal position before an international control body, there is no indication that anything can be done along that line immediately under the fear of atomic energy.

ATE C. OF C. RAPS ULL EMPLOYMENT

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 — The chamber of commerce has voiced today its opposition to the so-called full employment bill.

Upon a national socialistic planned economy as a matter of national policy, or whether the government shall adopt a policy of encouraging private enterprise employment.

He said there is no objection to public works programs "already recognized by congress to be within the framework of a free enterprise economy and freedoms guaranteed by the U. S. Constitution."

"If the estimated deficit in employment should be determined by the government to be sufficiently large," Schultz said in a

Yanks Uncover Hidden Wealth As Japs Face Winter of Hunger

By The Associated Press

TOKYO, Oct. 18 — Fabulous fortunes in gold and diamonds occupied the attention today of American forces in Japan where thousands of Nipponese face a winter of hunger.

More than $30,000,000 worth of diamonds—largely government owned and many obtained through deceit of the Japanese people—were discovered today in cheap thermos bottles in a safety deposit box.

Meanwhile, millions of dollars worth of gold and silver bullion began moving in U. S. Army trucks under armed escort from the bomb-battered government mint to the Bank of Japan.

Toyohiko Kagawa, Japanese Christian leader, urged General MacArthur to divert part of the more than $250,000,000 in government ment valuables already seized to import food.

Kagawa said if part of the treasure could be used to import rice, salt, raw cotton and other scarce commodities, "I believe this could prove to be the greatest thing for the happiness of the Japanese people."

The fortune in diamonds, totaling 131,000 karats in weight, was found in the Mitsui Trust Co. vaults, deposited in the name of a Japanese government import and export control agency.

Some of the gems probably were obtained abroad, as the same type of campaign for them was conducted by the Japanese overseas.

The same government control agency also has 33,000 karats of diamonds in vaults at Osaka, considerable gold and nearly 280 pounds of platinum in various parts of Tokyo.

Another fortune in diamonds, belonging to Japanese admirals, was found hidden in a chicken coop atop a mountain north of Tokyo.

The movement of the gold from the mint is part of a plan to gather all government precious metals in Bank of Japan vaults in Tokyo and Osaka, pending instructions from Washington as to the disposition.

Prince Fumimaro Konoye, an advisor to the throne, told the newspaper Asahi today that Emperor Hirohito is watching with "great concern" the trend of American public opinion on the question of his possible abdication.

"His majesty, who accepted the Potsdam Declaration, has a grave responsibility for the faithful execution of the terms of the declaration," Konoye said, "and considers his majesty cannot leave the throne before the obligation is discharged."

Konoye told Asahi that under the proposed revision of the constitution the cabinet, once responsible only to the emperor, also would be answerable to the house of representatives and that the powerful office of privy seal no longer would be necessary.

The previously announced intention of the prosecution is to prove these to be criminal organizations so that any person found to be a member would be convicted automatically as a criminal. Today's indictment traces the great Nazi conspiracy from the emergence of Hitler as a political leader in 1921, through his election as chancellor of the German republic in 1933 and his suppression of all opposition in Germany immediately thereafter. The Nazi party is described as "the central core" of the conspiracy. Three aims are attributed to the Nazis.

1. To destroy the Treaty of Versailles and its restrictions on German military power.
 2. To regain German territories lost in World War I and other European territories occupied by "racial Germans" such as the Sudetenland, and 3. To acquire "living space" in Europe and elsewhere.
- "The aims and purposes of the Nazi conspirators were not fixed or static," the indictment declared, "but evolved and expanded as they acquired progressively greater power and became able to make more effective application of threats of force and threats of aggressive war."

- Thus the Nazis—consolidating their power inside Germany through suppression of liberties, persecutions of Jews and other means—progressed to the point where in 1938-39 they took over Austria and Czechoslovakia and invaded Poland, "thus precipitat-

Hitler Conspicuous By His Absence

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Oct. 18—One name is conspicuously missing from the list of German leaders indicted for major war crimes. It is mentioned frequently throughout the 25,000-word text of the indictment, however. The name—Adolf Hitler.

The Allied prosecutors who drew up the indictment ventured no guesses as to his current address.

ing war with the United Kingdom and France."

It was but a matter of time then until all the Allied world, including the United States, was drawn into the conflict.

American entry as a result of the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor is linked to the German-Japanese military alliance and to the fact that after Japan struck Germany declared war on this country.

"By reason of all the foregoing," the indictment states, "the defendants with diverse other persons, are guilty of a common plan or conspiracy for the accomplishment of crimes against peace; of a conspiracy to commit crimes against humanity in the course of preparation for war and in the course of prosecution of the war, and of a conspiracy to commit war crimes not only against the armed forces of their enemies but also against non-belligerent civilian populations."

Crimes Cited in Detail

The indictment takes up these war crimes and crimes against humanity country by country, including the pre-war persecutions of Christians, Jews and political opponents of the Nazis in Germany itself. It declares:

"The Nazis murdered amongst others Chancellor Dollfuss (of Austria), the social democrat (Dr. Rudolf) Breitscheid and the Communist (Ernst) Thaelmann."

"They (the Nazis) imprisoned in concentration camps numerous political and religious persons, for example Chancellor Schuschnigg (of Austria) and Pastor Niemoller of Germany."

"In November 1938 by orders of the chief of the Gestapo, anti-Jewish demonstrations all over Germany took place Jewish property were destroyed. 30,000 Jews were arrested and sent to concentration camps and their property confiscated. Among other mass murders of Jews were the following:

"2,000 were shot in an anti-tank ditch at Minsk near Vlod 4,300 other Jews were shot in the same ditch. 60,000 Jews were shot on an island in the Dvina near Riga. 20,000 Jews were shot at Kiev and Dnepropetrovsk. Thousands of Jews were gassed weekly by means of gas-vans which broke down from overwork."

Cruel Even in Retreat

"As the Germans retreated before the Soviet army they exterminated Jews rather than allow them to be liberated. Many concentration camps and ghettos were kept in which Jews were incarcerated and tortured, starved, subjected to merciless atrocities and finally exterminated. About 70,000 Jews were exterminated in Yugoslavia."

Pastor forms of torture are set forth in the indictment.

"Bad treatment, pseudo-scientific experiments (sterilization of women at Auschwitz and at Ravensbruck, study of the evolution of cancer of the womb at Auschwitz, of typhus at Buchenwald, anatomical research at Natzweiler, heart injections at Buchenwald, bone grafting and muscular excisions at Ravensbruck etc.) gas chambers, gas wagons and crematory ovens."

"In the Ghetto camp 200,000 peaceful citizens were extermi-

Television in Color Progressing Rapidly

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK, Oct. 18—Television in color, a development that has been in the slow process of laboratory research for a decade or so but more speedily advanced in recent years by Dr. Peter C. Goldmark of CBS, again has been brought back to public attention. It came in testimony given before the federal communications commission at a hearing on rules and regulations for commercial television.

Paul W. Keaton, CBS vice president, testified that tests both within the laboratory and outside with a specially set up transmitter provided "superb color" images "beautifully detailed."

Miss Cross, Cured of Illness, Sees First Talking Picture

"Song of Bernadette," Portraying Story Somewhat Similar to Her Own.

Special to The Star
SANDUSKY, Oct. 13.—Miss Bernadette Cross, 34, of Sandusky, Ohio, who was cured of a long illness, saw her first talking picture yesterday at the local newspaper office. The only disappointment to Miss Cross was that her pastor, who has been a great source of comfort and encouragement to her during her illness, was unable to attend the picture. She enjoyed the picture very much, she said afterwards, but stated she would not care to see it again.

The private showing of the picture was made possible through the courtesy of the Twentieth Century-Fox Film Corp. and arranged for by Mr. Jones, after Miss Cross had expressed a desire to see this particular film.

Each day brings a new happiness to Miss Cross who keenly appreciates and enjoys it all. One of her many pleasures is the reading of her active interest in nature. A lover of the out of doors, this interest was a source of pleasure and entertainment during the years of her illness and with her recovery she is looking forward to walks and drives in the city and country. Accompanying a reporter to the sidewalk at her home yesterday, she called attention to a beautiful maple tree near the window of her room, which had turned a vivid red. The only tree in the block boasting of such hues, Miss Cross expressed the belief it had changed color just for her.

try, one so free that every secret is made out almost immediately, once in Washington.

Only clear policy can in these stubborn and chaotic days prevail. But clear policy can be formed only in clear minds, and no man's mind will be clear if his heart is at odds with his stomach, and his conscience is split.

We cannot have one principle for Sunday and another for Monday, one for the State department and another for the Navy department, on for east longitude and another for west longitude. For like Burdum's arm, which stood between two equally tempting bales of hay and starved to death, we shall become enfeebled and static, pulled in all directions and going in none. Yet that is what is happening as we attempt to please everybody by adopting all principles at once.

In the end we shall please nobody, least of all ourselves, if those who have the responsibility of leading the country make it their purpose to be popular rather than to make popular a consistent national purpose.

MEDINA, O., Oct. 13.—A common pleas court jury yesterday found Mrs. Mary Johnson, 34, guilty of second degree murder in the fatal stabbing of George Nightower April 22.

New Evidence Listed in Detroit Slaying
By The Associated Press
PORTIAC, Mich., Oct. 13.—Police investigation of the brutal mutilation murder of Mrs. Lydia Thompson, 47, of Detroit, centered today on a carpenter's story that the woman was stabbed with an ice pick three weeks before she was slain last Thursday.

Prosecutor Donald C. Nogge said H. W. Baker of Highland Park told authorities he did carpentry work last month at Mrs. Thompson's luxurious summer home at Orchard Lake.

Nogge gave this version of Baker's story: The carpenter said Mrs. Thompson told him she had been stabbed by a man and Baker quoted her as saying, "Don't be surprised if they find me in the country with an ice pick through me."

Nogge disclosed Baker had given him the name of a man whom Mrs. Thompson named as her assailant, but the prosecutor added he would not name him because the evidence did not seem sufficient basis for a warrant.

30 Project Leaders in Session Here Today
Approximately 30 women project leaders from Marion county communities were present today at a meeting held in a recreation room in the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. building on West Center street which was conducted by Miss Edna Callahan, home economics clothing specialist from Ohio State university. The project leaders are appointed by the Home Economics council. The instructions they received at these meetings are later conveyed by them to members of their community assemblages in "garment finishing" classes. Today's meeting, held from 10 a. m. till 3 p. m., was the first in a series planned for Marion county.

U. S. Can't Go 2 Ways at Once

By Walter Lippmann

With nothing to do for a fortnight except to have my back rubbed and to wonder about things in general, I have been asking myself how many of our accumulating difficulties arise from wanting to go in opposite directions at the same time.

I am certain that though in recent months this country has stood higher in power and influence than ever before in its history, we have not been speaking with clarity and with conviction. Soon, therefore we shall stand less high in power and influence.

The cheapest explanation is to blame some one else, the Russians or the British. But a complaint that shrewder men would turn, is the soft and easy way of the weak man.

This nation is too great to indulge itself with small excuses. When we have searched our own consciences, we shall have begun to acquire the means over and above the expectation of material favors to influence mankind.

There's a Division
The American conscience is divided and therefore we are not thinking clearly about the settlement of the war and about the future which it will shape. Thus we have been standing on the principle that this is one world and that no sphere of influence can be recognized in which any one power has the deciding voice. But this principle, which satisfies us when we are talking about our deals does not suit us at all when we are considering our vital interests.

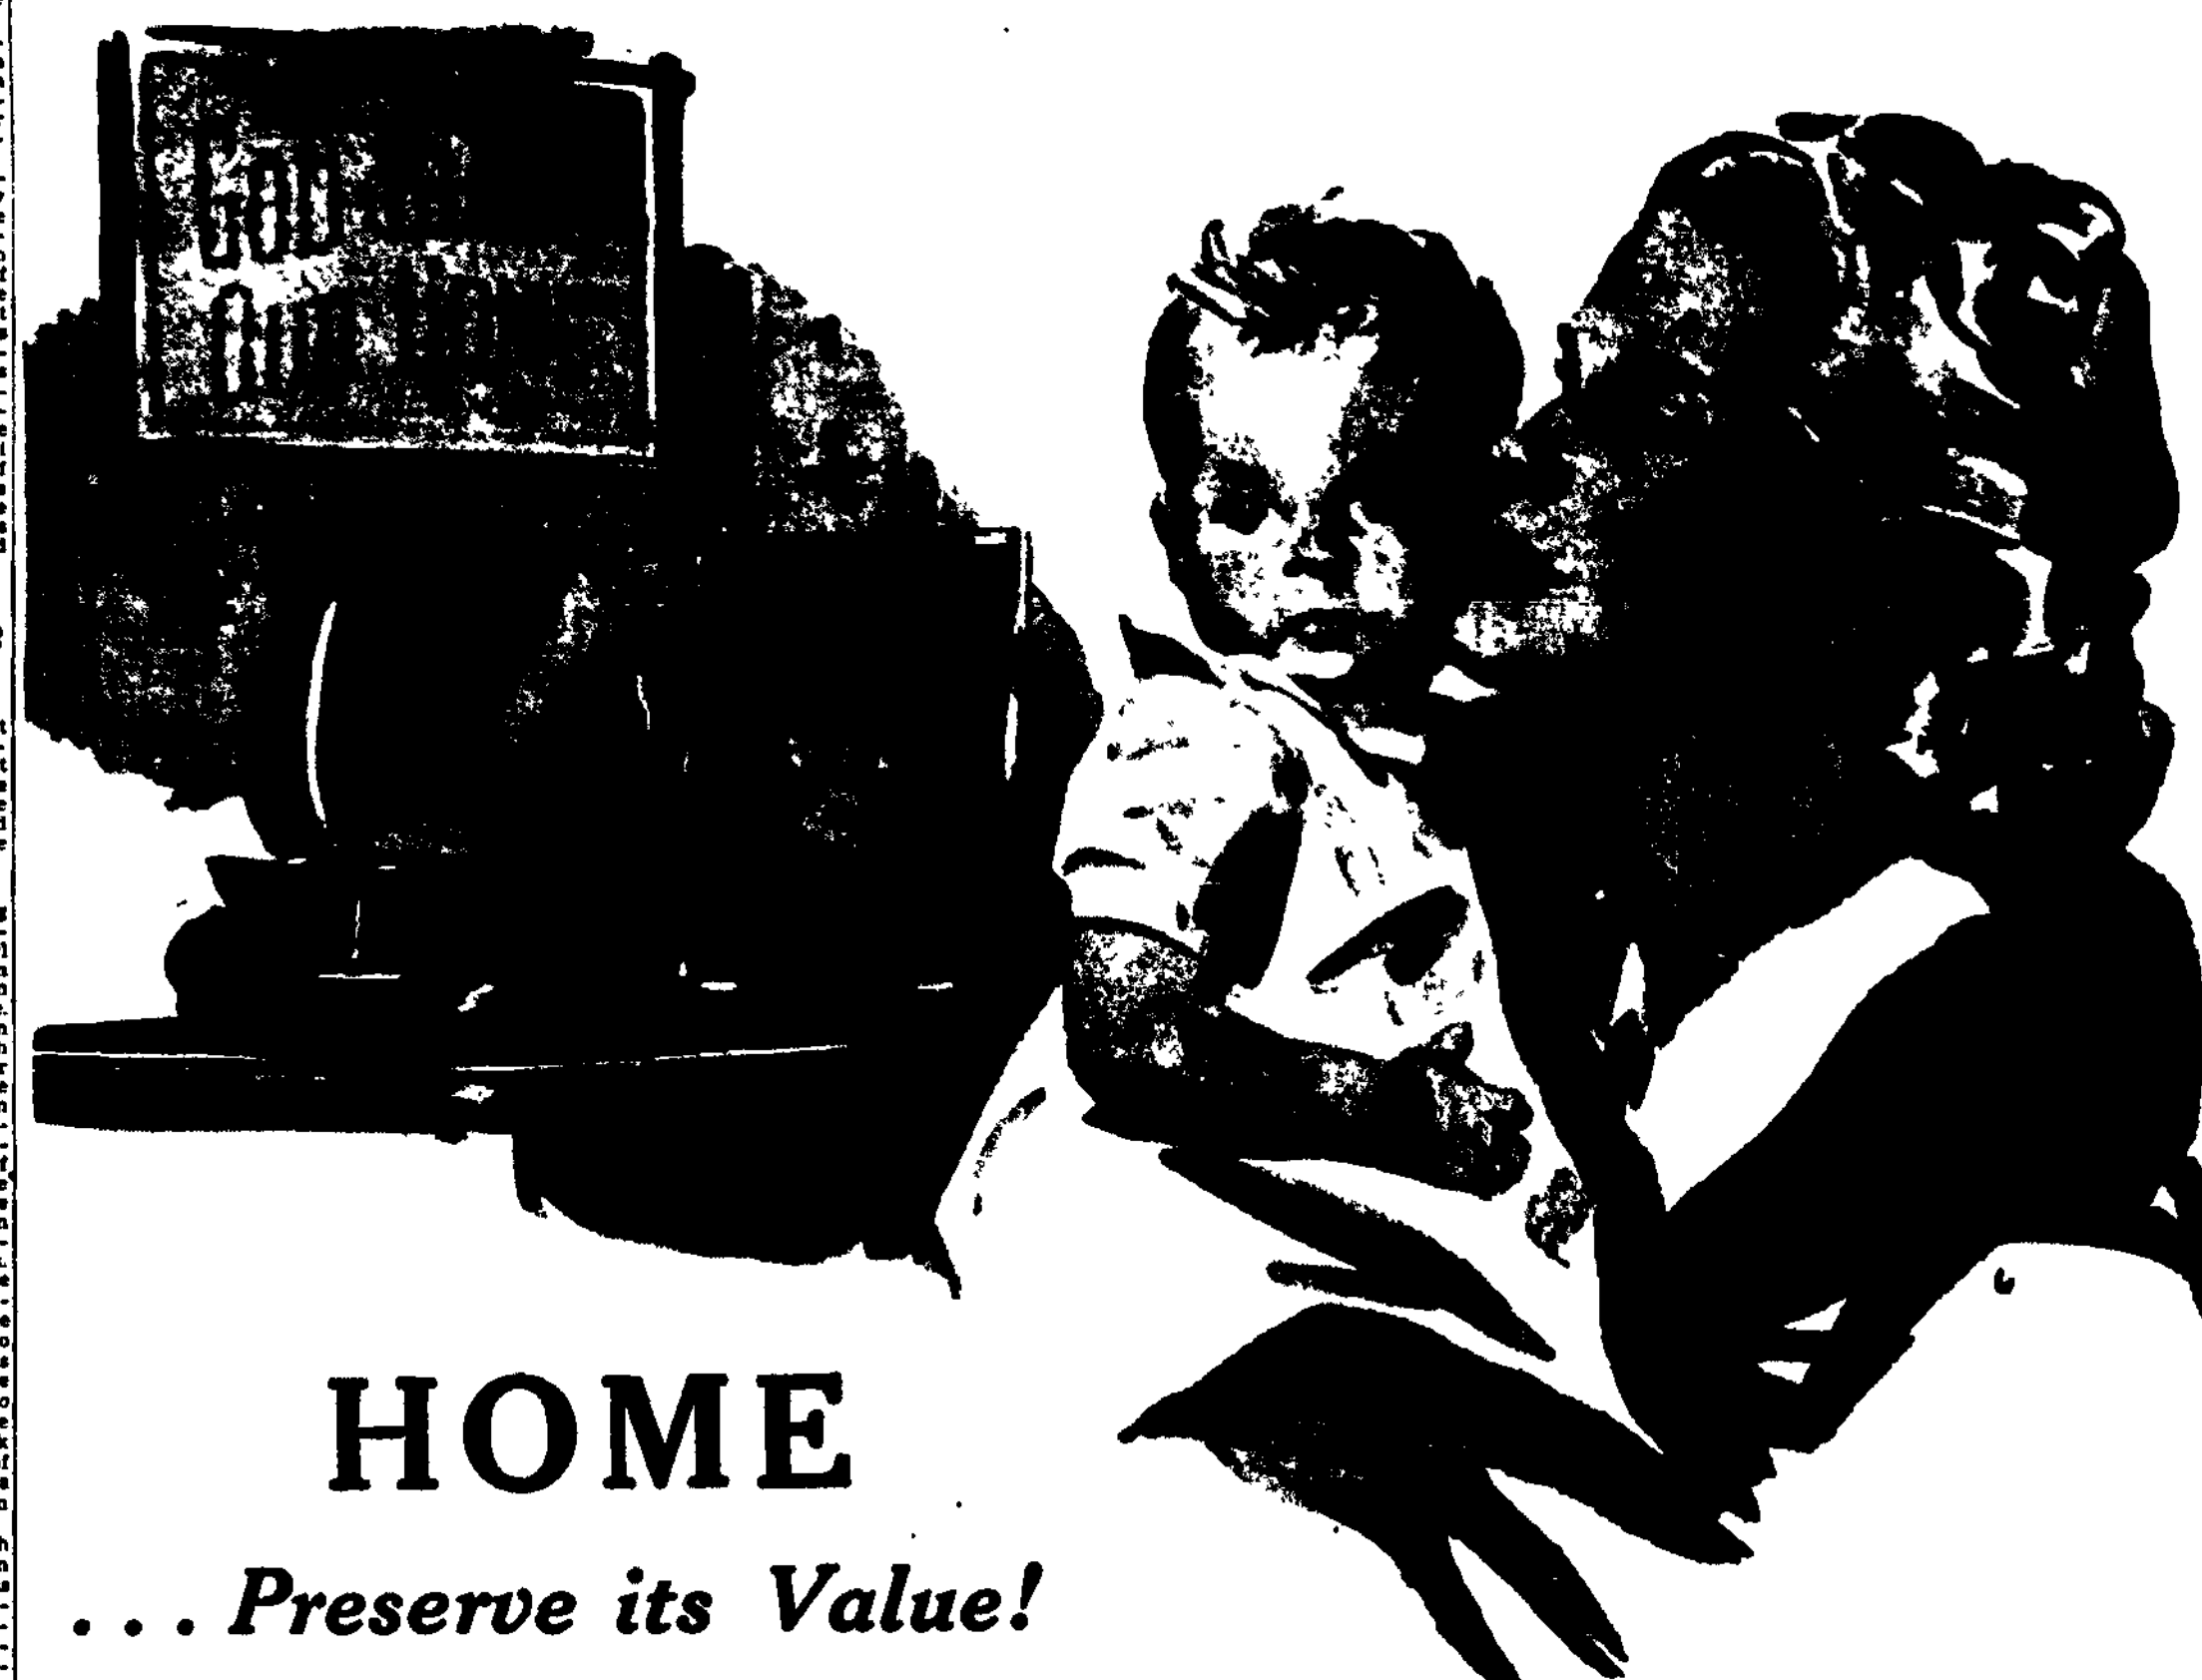

In the Pacific north of the equator we have established an American sphere of influence. And we have stated officially that in the occupation of Japan, and in the disposition of conquered islands, ours is to be the deciding voice.

deciding voice. If this is the right solution, as it may be, it is certainly not impressive in that part of the world which is east of the River Elbe when we invoke the principle that this is one world in which no decisions must be taken unilaterally.

Will Cause Complication
The contradiction is so glaring—at least to others if not to ourselves—that it is bound to snarl up all our transactions. We can legitimately claim an interest in the settlement of eastern Europe. But when we rest that claim on an inflated moral principle, which we do not treat as valid in our own sphere of influence, we weaken our position, as any man does who invokes a double standard of morals. Far from standing forth as the champions of morality against what it is the fashion to call power politics, we are incurring the grave suspicion of using morality as an instrument of our own power politics.

This is not the only example of contradiction and conflict within the American conscience. We have put ourselves forward also as the champions of liberty, as in fact we can and indeed we should. But we are not likely to convince mankind that we believe in liberty if the best we can think of to do with our knowledge of the atomic bomb is to make a monopoly of it, maintained by an hysterical censorship.

All that is likely to accomplish is to precipitate a competition in armament of the most vicious kind, and to deceive not our potential enemies but our own people. For our people are being persuaded that they may disarm, relying for their security upon a few scientific magicians who will press buttons in laboratories. It is fantastic that a free coun-

24 Million Tons Produced In 4 Years of Victory Gardening

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 18—American victory gardeners raised a lot of food for the war effort, according to a report by the U. S. Department of Agriculture today.

In the kind of green cabbage was also known as folding money, it amounted to $3,360,000,000, an average of seven cents a pound for all the different types of produce grown.

The tonnage figures are back-breaking in these four years since home front amateur gardeners planted, hoed, harvested and either ate or gave to neighbors 24,000,000 tons of vegetables.

18 Million Yearly

These home farmers averaged 18,125,000 gardens each year for a total of 72,500,000 during the war period. Lowest year was 1942 with 16,000,000 plots and the highest was 20,000,000 in 1943. This year they were estimated at 18,000,000.

The National Victory Garden Institute discloses these impressive figures and furnishes this background on the nationwide project.

Much of the success was due to constant plugging in industry circles. Business men all over the country lent their support and urged their employees to plant such gardens.

The growing season ended in most cities with annual harvest shows and festivals. Competition was keen in the various contests to determine who was the best home farmer. Various prizes were given such as money, china, silver and the like.

Cities Liked Plan

Cities as a whole also went in for fairs in a big way—including Detroit, Dallas, Chicago, San Francisco, St. Louis, Atlanta, Cleveland, Boston and Brooklyn, to name a few.

Detroit had one of the largest with 150,000 attending the harvest festival at Belle Isle Aug. 24-27.

Children and teen agers played a big part in turning out the voluminous amount of produce.

SHADES OF WASHINGTON

ABERDEEN, Wash. — Unused heroes of the war Company K of the Washington state guard got its first pay checks in four years recently, after drilling on a voluntary basis since just before Pearl Harbor. STRANGE SHOOTING — An ardent disciple of Nietzsche's "superman" philosophy, William Blader, 19, a University of Pittsburgh freshman, is held by police in connection with the fatal shooting of Frank Amberson, a store owner. Police Inspector William Maas said that Blader, who has been majoring in German and Greek at the university, confessed and declared the doctrine of the German philosopher was largely responsible for the shooting. According to the youth, friends had told him that he would be killed for his belief in the doctrine, and that he bought the gun to protect himself. He claimed he was practicing shooting in Schenley park when Amberson was slain.

It contains no narcotics. No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your doctor to tell you a bottle of Cremonium with the understanding you need it the way it quickly clears the cough, loosens mucus and eases, or even cures it. Keep America Free with Jobs and Progress, Navy Man Urges

One Marion service man sees the Jobs and Progress program as outlined by the Marion Civic Planning Group as a means of preventing this country from resorting to the forms of government we have been fighting against.

He is C. E. Sherer, SK1/C, U. S. Navy reserve, stationed at Oakland, Calif.

Mr. Sherer is general agent for the Midland Mutual Life Insurance Co. in this district. He now is on leave while serving in the Navy.

His letter is one of many received by the Marion Civic Planning Group from Marion service men endorsing the Jobs and Progress program to provide Marion with new schools, an adequate sewer system, a new airport, a city owned municipal building and two swimming pools.

"I hope you will have a job for me when I get back, not a paying job as I have a business in Marion, but I would like to help put the program over. I think that it is socially important as one of the ways we can prevent this country from resorting to the forms of government we have been fighting against. We must provide jobs for all as well as recreation."

ODDITIES In Ohio News

By The Associated Press.
CLEVELAND—Charles F. Yarbham says he has a neighbor of Irish ancestry "who remarked that other day in all seriousness that she was on her way to see 'A Bell for O'Donnell'."

ADA—Jesse E. LaDow, Mansfield attorney, who was graduated from Ohio Northern University in 1884, will celebrate his 61st birthday by attending homecoming here Oct. 20.

Dr. Robert O. McClure, university president, will present LaDow with an honorary diploma at the annual banquet Saturday evening. LaDow is one of the founders of the Mansfield Rubber Co.

WARREN—Dr. Ralph Herlinger and David R. Paige recently visited at Orr's Island, Me. They were cruising about nine miles off shore in a small motor boat. The two relate, when a 60-foot whale, came to the surface and much too close for comfort. Not wishing to be a couple of Jonahs the men made for shore but not before the same whale came around again, spouting water high into the air.

TOLEDO—County Treasurer Dan Holzheimer figures one of the men at his Crilly Co. coal plant, Herman Froch, has shoveled 7,600,000 scoops of coal. That's a lot of elbow bending and it took 38 years, Holzheimer said and added:

Froch moved eight tons of coal per day, 300 days per year for 38 years. That makes 76,000 tons of coal—enough to fill 15 trains of 100 cars each, or six cargo vessels, holding 12,000 tons each.

LIMA—George Dewey Miller Jr., gunner's mate 2-c, of Lima is what you might call a monkey's uncle, having bought a shrieking "spider" monkey for a sack of flour in the Philippines. He named it "George Dewey III" and clothed the animal in bell-bottoms.

The two have seen more than 58 combat sessions.

YOUNGSTOWN—Members of Co. A, 1276th Engineers, serving in Germany, saw a picture of Ann Napoli, 19, in the G-F News, a publication of the General Fireproofing Co., and chose her the pinup girl of the company—despite the fact they didn't know her name.

Cpl. Edward J. Gorski of Youngstown, an engineer, wrote the president of the company describing the picture.

SPRINGFIELD—Mrs. Edna Swane of nearby South Solon is retiring as bus driver for the Stokes township school after 17 years of service. She traveled approximately 183,000 miles back and forth to school, not counting special school activities, without an accident.

In and Around Marion

Fire Plugs Are Guides

One Marion resident who recently moved here and purchased a home in the East Side hopes sincerely that the fire department leave certain fireplugs just where they are until he learns other means of identifying his new home. According to the new arrival there are three fire plugs on his street, one at either end one directly in front of the residence. By turning at the second one from either direction he knows he is home.

We picked up the phone at home the other night and waited and waited for the click. Finally it dawned on us that the click wasn't necessary there so the dialing proceeded. As if that wasn't enough we calmly answered a personal call at home shortly after that by saying "newroom."

RICHWOOD, Oct. 18.—The home of Vernon Wood on Route 4 was destroyed by fire Monday night. The Richwood fire department was called but could not save the house. They saved the other buildings from burning. The fire was discovered by Mrs. Wood.

Value of Good Breakfasts

EAT UP! A hearty breakfast starts the day right.

By CHARLOTTE ADAMS
Associated Press Food Editor

Do you eat a good breakfast in the morning? Do your children and your husband eat good breakfasts? The business of planning and executing good meals, well and nutritionally balanced, wasn't just a war measure, you know. Remember the appalling number of American boys who were turned down by the draft because of nutritional defects?

A most important part of the day's nutritional total is breakfast. In an amazing number of big city schools (and rural ones, too, for that matter) children arrive for the morning's work fortified only with a cup of coffee, sometimes with the addition of a piece of bread or toast. This is a sure way to build up healthy bodies which will give way when the really tough part of life starts. Every person, child or adult, should eat at least a fourth of the day's intake of food at breakfast.

When Revision Is Needed

If a fourth of your day's intake of food is a cup of coffee and a piece of toast your whole day needs revision! Lots of women, for instance, who eat fairly good and well-balanced lunches and dinners, have only coffee for breakfast for the sake of their figures. They are wrong. In the end, there is no beauty without health.

What makes a proper breakfast? Fruit first, always. It may be juice, but any women who plans meals well can make a shift occasionally, for the sake of variety. She can serve tomatoes or ambrosia for supper and some stewed fruit at breakfast. Prunes go well, occasionally, in any diet. Stewed apricots are delicious. Apples are scarce this year, but there will be enough for most of us to make a bit of applesauce occasionally. It tastes awfully good for breakfast.

Cereals Popular

Most children and many adults love prepared cereals. They are less filling than the cooked variety, so they are not an "either-or" dish. If you have prepared cereals for breakfast serve eggs and bacon or sausage. Do you always heat prepared cereals? They taste much better.

A good, freshly cooked hot cereal sticks to the ribs. If you serve toast, muffins or rolls, it constitutes enough breakfast for many people.

Most everybody likes eggs for breakfast. But most people don't like them the same way every day. If you have a family which says "always fried" or "always scrambled" you're lucky if you're lucky. But don't be lazy unless you're sure the family prefers the result. There are many, many ways to prepare eggs. Try different ways at least once each week. Life will be pleasanter. But remember one thing always. Never cook eggs quickly in any form. It toughens them and makes them less digestible.

As for beverages, that's the point at which most people stick to one favorite. For the children it should be milk or hot cocoa. For the grown-ups, whether it be coffee or tea, make it always just fresh—full of aroma and flavor. There's nothing which could better lure you all into eating more and better breakfasts!

NEW SUSPECT HELD IN COLUMBUS DEATH

By The Associated Press
COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 18.—A man wanted on charges of robbing a Grand Rapids, Mich., bank was held for questioning today in connection with the hold-up slaying of George Boyer, 51-year-old gasoline attendant.
The man, identified by Federal Bureau of Investigation Agent Frank C. Holloman as Louis Holliday, 29, was detained by police after he entered a hospital for treatment of a bullet wound in the knee.
Holliday said he was wounded as he passed the gasoline station during the shooting of the attendant last Monday. He denied participating in the attempted hold-up, police said.
Holloman said Holliday was charged with a $2,000 bank robbery in Grand Rapids May 28. Police also were holding a Mansfield reformatory fugitive who confessed the slaying earlier but then repudiated it. The fugitive first informed police of the crime, saying he was witness.

Prexies To Travel To Findlay Friday Seeking First Grid Win

Injuries to Cline and Daum Worry Petrich; Foe Has Won One and Lost Four.

The Harding Presidents, still looking for that first victory of the year, will go to Findlay Friday night in hopes of finding it. They will tangle with Findlay's Trojans, who bear a record of four losses and one victory for the season. Findlay lost to Middletown 14-0, Bowling Green 7-4, Fremont 13-0, and Findlay 13-0. Their only victory came last week over Lima Centre, 13-7. Their record is not as favorable as that of Harding, but the team has encountered thus far.

Injury Jinx Again

Asah Chasen Joe Petrich is being worried by injuries. Two of the starting lineup will be benched Friday night and will probably see little action. They are Charles Cline, guard who has a sprained ankle and Paul Daum, tackle who is being troubled with a bruised knee. In addition to these boys there are several others on the sick list with minor injuries but enough to weaken the strength of the team. Petrich is finding it very difficult to find replacements for these injured boys. The only possible substitutions are made up of inexperienced sophomores. The picture does not look much brighter for the future, either, since this year's sophomores will be carrying the weight next year.

Show Good Spirit

Another fact causing Petrich deep concern is that there are at present nine boys on the squad who must keep their grades up in order to be able to play. Despite all this the boys continue to display a determined spirit.

EDISON TOPS VERNON JUNIOR SQUAD 19-0 TO HEAD CITY LOOP

Vernon Reserve Gridders Win 6-0, But Central Holds Season's Title.

By BILL COULTER

Edison marked up the first victory of the Junior High season yesterday afternoon at Harding Stadium as they romped over Vernon 19-0. It was the first loss handed to the East Siders as they tied Central 7-7 in the first game of the season. Edison now heads the league with a victory and a tie, Central has a record of two ties and Vernon stands with a tie and a loss, at the end of the first round. The games thus far have been blessed with good football weather.

Score Early

Edison entered the scoring column in the second quarter when Jack Bishop plowed over from the one yard line. The attempt for conversion failed and Edison led 6-0. They were not satisfied, however, and came right back to score in the same period when Bishop tossed a pass to Harold Morris who scored. Again the try for the extra point failed and Edison led at the end of the first half 12-0.

Neither team was able to score in the third period, although Vernon did start a drive with a couple of first downs, but was stopped before going too far into enemy territory. Edison racked up a tally in the final minutes of the last quarter when Jack Bishop threw a pass to Morris in the end zone.

Vernon Reserves Win

The Vernon Reserves won over the Edison lads 6-0 to wind up the activity of the reserve squads for this season. Central's reserve topped the list as they completed the season with two victories and no defeats. Vernon placed next with one victory and one loss and the Edison reserves brought up the rear with two defeats.

Following are the starting lineups for the varsity game:

Vernon	Edison
Roest	LE
Louderback	LT
Richie	LG
Fazio	RG
Cipponan	RT
Wormell	RE
Andrews	QB
Thomas	Buckingham

Carey Gridders Will Play Forest Friday

Special to The Star

CAREY, Oct. 13.—Carey's Blue Devils will travel to Forest Friday night for a game. The game is called for 7:30. A few minor bruises slowed down the Carey's practice but should not hamper Friday's action. Coach Doc Reister has made some changes in the lineup. He was very well pleased with the action of Green and Courtad in last Friday's game. A check of scores of the last five games shows that the Blue Devils average four touchdowns a game in scoring 118 points against their opponents. The probable starting lineup: L.E., Arden Coppler; L.T., Fredrick Snobarger; L.G., Jack Wender; C., Bill Dotson; R.G., Tony Troiano or Oransa; R.T., Jack Green or Bill Hunter; R.E., Owen Courtad or John DeArms; Q.B., Tolbert Donelson; F.B., Donald Wedge; R.H., Gene Newell; L.H., Frank Heck.

Irish Drill for Galion Game

Coach Wagner Puts St. Mary Eleven Through Paces for Tough Tilt Friday Night.

Marion St. Mary will be gunning for their third victory of the season Friday night when they travel to Galion to take the game. The team has a tough task ahead of them with a good line and is expected to give the Irish plenty of opposition. Coach Wagner's squad has been going through long and strenuous practices this week and has been drilling especially on blocking and tackling. The line has shown some improvement in these departments. As far as injuries go, the Irish will not be greatly hampered. Bob Wintersteller, who has been nursing a leg injury, is coming along fine and will undoubtedly see plenty of action in league contest.

Marion Seaman Sends Memo Indicating How Lack of Ships Delays Discharges

Some of the difficulties facing Navy personnel now stationed in the Pacific area who are eligible for discharge yet lack transportation home were outlined in a memorandum to a crew on a warship now in the Pacific. A Marine member of the crew has mailed a copy of the memorandum home with a request that it be published, and expressed the hope that public opinion could help get the men home faster. He asked "we need transportation desperately. There are 47 aboard here eligible for discharge. We want to come home."

The memo is as follows:

U.S.S. CHEUNG
27 September, 1943

MEMORANDUM TO ALL HANDS:

1. It is the desire of this command to release all hands with the current situation in regard to the discharge to inactive duty of all eligible personnel.

2. As of 24 September 1943, the picture is as follows: 5,500 men are in the Receiving Station at Kure Island, 3,000 men are eligible for discharge and are scheduled to be in the Buckner Bay area, 12,000 Bataan and other naval personnel are eligible. Those are stationed on Okinawa Island. This makes a total of approximately 10,500 men, all of whom want to get back to their homes. Just as badly as we do.

3. The authorities Ashore are honestly trying to do everything humanly possible to return all of you to the States in the shortest possible time. I believe that it will take a greater number of ships to proceed to the States than have been ordered. It will probably take at least two weeks before the Receiving Station can accept further shipboard personnel. An condition may stand in the way of our getting remaining in this area for that time.

4. It is earnestly hoped that you men can try to understand the enormity of this problem, and bear with us during these days of anxiety you have the sincere promise from this office that every effort will be made to get all eligible hands on their way home just as soon as we can.

E. M. GUNNER,
Lieut. (jg), USN,
Executive Officer.

LOVE'S FAIR HORIZON

By ABRAHAM GARRISON

FOR an instant my hand trembled with the instinct to strike Georges across his handsome face already breaking into a smile at the thought of coming to him with a bearded message from Mary.

But it was not his eagerness to hear from Dicky's lovely niece which infuriated me so much as the scene of devotion to Olga over the neglected chess board, which I had just seen.

He was so patently the type of man who could be happy with either, were the other dear charmer away, that I could feel all sympathy for him, as well as all patience, oozing out of my finger tips.

The realization of his atrocious "two-timing" steeled my voice.

"Yes, Georges," I said. "My father has sent a most urgent message to you which he says I must deliver to you alone."

A light flashed far back in his eyes, and my belief that he thought I was camouflaging my real message was strengthened.

"Of course," he said, with his usual ceremonious courtesy "how to that end?"

He turned to the others, including all in a bow from the "Will you permit me to go, the thought of coming to him with a bearded message from Mary."

"Of course, dear Georges," she replied. "But will you please go on ahead into the library? I wish to whisper a word to Madge before she joins you."

He bowed again, and strode into the library, while Olga, with a gracious word of apology to the rest, drew me out of hearing and put a breathless question.

"Shall I tell Philip and Olga now that you are taking him away?" she asked. "They know nothing as yet."

"I think it would be as well to tell them at once," I said, trying to appear matter-of-fact in the face of what I knew was her agonized concern for her daughter.

"One more thing. Is there anything either Philip or I can do to help Georges in his packing—or anything?" she queried helplessly. "You see it is on my errand he is going into such danger, and—"

"I know, Olga," I said with firmness. "but I am sure there is nothing. Father told Georges some time ago to have his things packed, and to prepare to leave within five minutes of any summons. I am sure he has obeyed that injunction. After all, he is a soldier, you know."

"Yes, I know, and a good one," she rejoined. "And I won't keep you any longer. Also, please understand that I realize how painful this errand is to you."

"Thank you," I told her, and then she turned away, and I made my way into the library where Georges stood erect waiting for me.

As I closed the door, he fairly leaped forward.

"Mary!" he breathed. "Have you another message from her?"

"No, I haven't," I said abruptly. "She told me that she had said good-bye to you before you left our apartment."

I had a sudden ridiculous vision of Dicky's intoning, "And how!" at this moment, and disciplined my risibilities into submission.

"Oh!" he said, and the monosyllable was an exclamation point of dejection.

"But I have an urgent message from my father," I went on relentlessly. "A real one, this time, and one which I fear you will not like."

"What is it?" he asked tensely.

"That you come with me in less than ten minutes to our apartment," I said. "Father is going to take you to the highway, and you will not come back here again."

Painful Kidney Ailment

ONE of the most painful disorders that afflict mankind is renal colic. The condition starts suddenly and the pain is sharp, usually beginning in the back and passing downward into the groin and lower part of the abdomen. However, not all cases are typical. In some instances the pain may be in the back or in the lower part of the abdomen alone.

The most common cause of renal colic is the formation of a stone in the kidney. The pain occurs when the stone passes from the kidney down the ureter, which is the tube that leads from the kidney to the bladder. However, there are other causes and it should be assumed that when renal colic occurs a stone must be present.

In each instance of renal colic it is necessary that the patient be completely studied to determine the source of the trouble. A complete study includes a careful physical examination and X-ray plates of the kidney, ureter, and bladder. To make the latter, the doctors inject a certain substance into a vein and after some period of time take the X-ray plates. The material is excreted into the kidneys and, when the X-ray is taken, the kidney, ureter, and bladder are clearly visible in the plate.

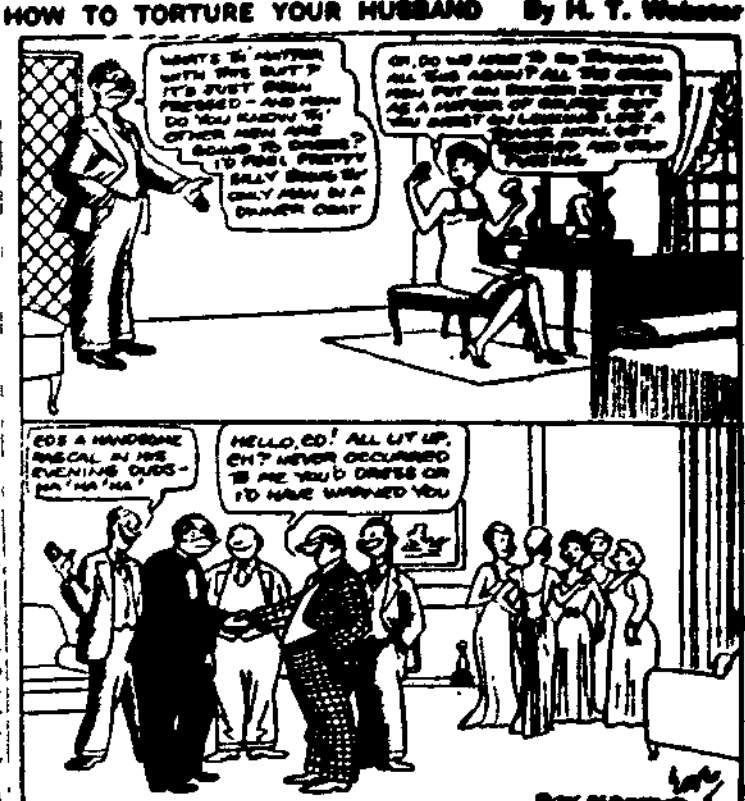

If, perchance, there is some blocking of the flow of the urine at the point where the ureter empties into the bladder, it will be seen in the X-ray plate. The ureter will be swollen or distended, and the pelvis of the kidney, or that part where the secretion collect before they empty into the bladder, will also be increased in size.

Sometimes blood vessels are out of their normal position and pass over the ureters. These blood vessels may produce sufficient pressure on the ureter to block the flow of the kidney excretions, and renal colic may develop. Sometimes a kink will occur in the ureter which blocks it. In other instances, the kidney itself may get out of its normal position and become twisted. This will also produce blocking of the ureter.

In view of the fact that there are so many different conditions which may produce renal colic, the importance of a complete study should be borne in mind whenever such an attack occurs. Operative treatment is often required, but in some instances the disturbance may be relieved in other ways.

0 Seek Advice at Office of Veterans Administration

All Are Men Discharged from Service in U. S. Forces in World War II.

The veterans administration office opened here last June. Nearly 500 veterans discharged from the service have sought the office. Sullivan, contact representative reported today. The office, which is located in the basement of the Marion City building, formerly occupied by the Air Patrol, is the clearing house for complaints of all veterans of all wars, active or discharged. Of the 500 veterans who have come from the veterans administration office, Mr. Sullivan said, the duties of the contact representative. All these agents can do, he said, is to advise the men of the best possible course, or refer to them various offices where they may receive the definite information which they desire.

Chas. Example
For an example of aid in the educational phase, Mr. Sullivan cited this: A veteran who comes into the office with the vague idea that he wants to go to school or college is disappointed when the representative informs him that he must choose his own school, one that must be credited with the state department of education. They cannot choose a school for the veteran—that choice must be voluntary. The financial help is given under two different classifications. The first, under the Bill of Rights, entitles a man (who was 25 years of age or under when he entered service) to receive $50 a month plus tuition, up to $500 a year, for a period of schooling equaling his length of service and one year. This amount is increased to $75 if the veteran is married.

Under public law No. 16, which provides education for veterans who are entitled to a pension, or those who are considered rehabilitation cases having a disability of 10 per cent or more, the veteran then is entitled to $92 monthly for a period of 48 months. This sum is $102.50 if the man is married with an additional $5.75 for each child. Veterans seeking technical training are eligible for assistance but since each trade has an individual wage scale information regarding various trades can be given according to a set standard.

Thousands watch the face grow younger looking with Endocrine

Endocrine is too good to be true, doesn't it... that ENDOCRINE eight years now has helped thousands of women gain a more youthful skin of face and throat? It is true... true to a degree hitherto thought possible. Yes, ENDOCRINE can aid most women to prove and beautify the skin itself, not merely its superficial "look." Only ENDOCRINE contains ACTIVOL™, an ACTIVOL™ is a scientific replacement for women's natural, skin-vitalizing substance. When you apply ENDOCRINE, it is absorbed by the skin to help remove the vital growth of cells and tissues. This aids the skin to come fresher, softer, more radiantly youthful again. How better can you invest your cosmetic dollars? Many report vast improvement in only 30 days.

Questions of all types are aired at the office and the strangest to date was from a young man, an American citizen, who enlisted before he was 17 years old and served as an officer in the Norwegian Air Force. After his discharge he was returned here, as an American citizen of course, and was notified that he would be forced to register for call with a draft board. He questioned the agent about his eligibility to schooling under the G. I. Bill of Rights and asked if he could be drafted. The first answer was no. Mr. Sullivan said he was not eligible for educational aid but he could be drafted into the U. S. Army. After he had served at least 90 days in the Army he could then be eligible for education under the bill.

Many of the veterans inquire about the possibility of converting their insurance. Mr. Sullivan said that many of the men have been misinformed about this point and stated that the insurance held in the National Service Life Co. can be converted into straight life, 20-pay life or 30-pay life.

We were sitting around Bill Webster's fire the other night, enjoying a mellow glass of beer, and talking—now that the war is over—about what Peace really means.
"I can tell you one thing it doesn't mean," says Bill. "It doesn't mean that we can all relax—and take things easy—and figure we're living in Utopia."
"You're right," Judge Cunningham agrees. "Peace means, among other things, eternal vigilance. Free men are still at war with hatred, prejudice, intolerance—whether it's the hatred of a man's political beliefs, or of his right to choose between a glass of beer or buttermilk."

Report Says We Talk Tougher Than We Act Toward Germany

May Be Week or More Till Miners Are All Back to Work.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—The United States consistently has talked tougher than it has acted in the control of defeated Germany, a newly-published policy directive disclosed today.

The directive was the first which Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower received last April in preparation for establishment of a military government in the part of Germany his forces occupied.

Later President Truman, Prime Minister Attlee and Generalissimo Stalin laid down an Allied policy for Germany which superseded the earlier directive.

U. S. Steel subsidiary, reported it was losing 15,000 tons daily steel production when the strike was called off. The company said no further curtailments would be necessary if miners return to work Monday.

Government Gives Big Sign of Relief
WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—The government evidenced frank relief today at John L. Lewis' sudden move to end the critical soft coal strikes, leaving speculation over his motives to others.

Labor, reconversion and solid fuels officials hopefully assumed the 216,000 striking bituminous coal miners would return to work Monday as directed by the United Mine Workers' president.

The strikes, which started Sept. 21, had threatened to halt reconversion.

The threat to steel—and thence to autos and a score of basic industries—had been multiplying daily with the loss of more than a million tons each work cycle.

Most labor sources expected Lewis would renew his demand on the operators for unionization of the supervisory, clerical and technical employees—the issue in the strikes—when he reopens the contract next March 31.

Lewis may have been convinced the alternative to ending the strikes—calling out all 400,000 soft coal miners and possibly the 72,000 anthracite miners as well—would not be a smashing success.

It's hard to get production workers to lose pay over their foremen-bosses' grievances.

The mine leader has been showing increasing concern over public opinion.

On any points not covered by the Potsdam Declaration, Eisenhower still may draw his authority from the original Truman order.

In most respects this original order and the Potsdam Declaration coincide. Both state the fact of their defeat must be brought home to the German people.

Palley Outlined
Both order that Germany should not have a standard of living higher than that of the surrounding countries, that the development of farming as a major German occupation should be stressed and that the industrial disarmament of Germany should reach far down into the Reich's industrial life.

American policy was stated to call for the removal of all active Nazis or other persons hostile to the Allies.

Praterization was sternly frowned upon.

By contrast, reports from Germany invariably say that practically no industrial equipment has been removed from the American zone. The ban on fraternization has long since gone by the boards and most informed persons agree the German people by and large are popular with individual members of the occupation forces.

Similar To Potsdam
With respect to demilitarization and industrial controls the original American directive is quite similar to that of the Potsdam Declaration. It is not as specific, however, in stating all industrial equipment not needed for a minimum living standard either should be destroyed or removed.

Publication of the original order furnished a starting point for what appears to be an impatient controversy over whether the policies set out for weakening Germany should in fact be relaxed to allow that country to revive as an industrial power in Europe.

Truman Praises United Nations Food Agency at First Session

By The Associated Press
QUEBEC, Oct. 18—President Truman yesterday hailed the creation of the International Food and Agriculture Organization as offering the United Nations a way to "begin to cultivate, if not yet to gather, the fruits of victory."

In a message to the first conference of the food organization, which was formally set up here yesterday, the President lauded the goals of the agency and said it could do much to set the pattern for international co-operation in other fields.

Without victory over the axis powers, the United Nations would not now be able, he said, to set up an international organization dedicated to these two simple propositions:

"First: That people in all parts of the world can and should have plenty of food and of other products of the farm."

"Second: That the world's people who draw wealth from the earth and sea can and should enjoy their fair share of the good things of life."

Text of Message
Mr. Truman's message, delivered to Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson, the American delegate, for reading before the conference, follows:

To the delegates of the United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization:

My thoughts and the thoughts of the people of the United States of America today turn toward Quebec. The first conference of the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations is truly a momentous occasion. It is an occasion on which the people of the United Nations begin to cultivate, if not yet to gather, the fruits of victory.

If we had not won our victory through common sacrifice, a meeting such as this would have been impossible. There would have been no room in the world for candor and decency and mutual helpfulness. Certainly there would have been no room for an international organization dedicated to these two simple propositions: first, that people in all parts of the world can and should have plenty of food and of other products of the farm; and second, that the people who draw wealth from the earth and sea can and should enjoy their fair share of the good things of life.

These are high goals. Neither the world nor any single nation has as yet even come close to achieving either. It will take time to reach them. Creation of a food and agriculture organization in itself will not be enough; we must look to the patient co-operation of the family of nations through law and other means. But the work you are beginning at Quebec is an essential step forward, and a long one.

First Organization
The world is watching your efforts for still another reason. The Food and Agriculture Organization is the first of the new permanent world organizations to grow out of the wartime co-operation of the United Nations. Its early stages, for good or ill, will do much to set the pattern for the other world organizations that must follow if we are to succeed in building a foundation for world peace and prosperity.

It is particularly fortunate that your meeting comes at this time, when some of the problems and difficulties that must inevitably follow military victory in so great a war have made themselves felt so keenly. The tasks of repairing the ravages of war and building for a saner future are tremendous. Each day it becomes clearer that in many ways we must work harder to win the peace than we did to win the war. But we know that the peace can be won. One of the major victories can be won at Quebec.

U. S. Eager To Help
The United States is eager and proud to take its full part in your efforts. The success of this all-important first step in the life of the Food and Agriculture Organization is the primary aim of my country's delegation. Its members come to this conference prepared to work together with the delegations of other nations for the good of all, and to bear their full share of the responsibility for a successful outcome.

Please convey my best wishes to the delegates of the host government and to the delegates from the other United Nations. Much depends on your work during the days ahead. I am fully confident you will accomplish your purpose, no matter what obstacles may arise. Working together you cannot fail.
